NICE GOING, says Bert Lynn, president of Torrance board of education, as he presents Irvin McClendon with a Sammy Saxon trophy for excelling in the area of mathematics at the second annual achievement awards banquet at North High.

ECC Orators Gain Trophies In Tourney

Competing in the first El Camino College intra-school tournament, three students today possess trophies symbolic of victory in their respective fields.

Cecelia Lang won first place with her oral interpretation of material by Alexander King and Dillon Thomas' "Fern Hill."

With an original speech on the First Amendment to the Constitution, Mike Shadow placed first in oratory.

Impromptu winner Jay Mirrieles spoke first on patriotism and then medicare.

"Due to the enthusiasm shown, we plan to hold the next intra-school tournament at the very beginning of the fall semester," Jerry Borden, El Camino College speech coach, stated.

Placing second in oral interpretation was Lucious McCalpine. R. Scott Pfafflin and Dave Prichard were tied for third place.

In oratory, Dale Basinger of Torrance and Gil Archuletta won second and third place, respectively.

Impromptu winners were Ron Ivy, second place, and Bonnie Redman of Torrance, third.

HIGH HONOR WON

Mother Francis Xavier, R.S.H.M., and Suzanne Scalpone Ewart were winners of highest academic honors at the 15th annual commencement exercises held at Marymount College on June 1.

Y Summer Camp Starts In Mid-June

Summer camping comes alive at the Torrance YMCA the day after schools let out for the summer. Three wildly different camping trips will leave bright and early Saturday, June 15. There is a pack-in base camp for boys 12 and older; a Sierra base camp for girls 12 and up; and Torrance's first girls backpack trip for those 16 and up.

All three camp groups will travel 340 miles to the Mammoth lakes area and Devil's Postpile National Monument, have roaring campfire together the first night, then the next day travel their separate ways in the beautiful High Sierra country along a portion of the John Muir trail. Highlight of all the trips will be hiking, trout fishing and tossing snow balls at the higher elevations. The groups will return to base camp June 21 for a final campfire to share experiences before traveling home together on June 22.

Reservations are increasing and those interested should notify the YMCA, FA 8-1272, as soon as possible.
